

WEEKLY REPUBLICAN-1891
DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER-1892

MAYSVILLE, KY., THURSDAY, MAY 30, 1912.

ONE COPY—ONE CENT.

A young man who hailed from fair Worcester, said: "For my town I'll now be a rooster. I don't know how to preach, And I can't make a speech, But I know I can crow like a rooster."

Mr. Larry Langfals, the plumber, this morning received two carloads of sewer pipe from the pottery at Toronto, O. It came in over the L. & N.

The weather this week has been quite reasonable and cool, and just right for tobacco planting. The crop is a little backward and is not yet half planted.

Say, Mr. Mayor

Isn't it about time to start the Esplanade fountain spouting, now that good old summer time is here?

WEATHER REPORT

FAIR TODAY; FRIDAY, FAIR AND WARMER.

DECORATION DAY

A Day Hallowed By All True Patriots of Our Country

"Rest on, embalmed and isolated dead! Dear as the blood you gave, No impious footstep here shall tread The heritage of your graves; Nor shall your glory be forgot While Fame her record keeps, Or Honor points the hallowed spot Where valor proudly sleeps."

For the first time in thirty years there will be no public demonstration of the Nation's Sunday made here by the members of Joseph Heiser Post No. 13, G. A. R., other than flagging and strewing flowers over the mounds of the 147 soldier dead that peacefully sleep in our beautiful "City of the Dead" in the East End.

Nevertheless thousands will visit the Cemetery today and garland the graves of their loved ones as has been the custom for the past quarter of a century.

"SCOOP" CONNERS IS IT

Premier Third Baseman, Maltreated By Brutal Companions, To Get Big Ovation

Frankfort comes to Mayville today for two games, this morning and this afternoon.

It is reported that Mayville fans are prepared to give Third Baseman "Rube" Connors, an ovation and a demonstration showing their admiration for the high-class ball he has put up, and as a rebuke to the members of the Mayville Club who treated Connors in such a horrible and ungentlemanly manner.

It is said that three of the Mayville Club will refuse to play today if Connors plays. However, we'll see what we shall see.

There will be police on the ground sufficient to cope with any outbreak on the part of the players who show a dirty, yellow streak.

Last week, when the team was playing at Lexington, one of his teammates put "cow itch" into his clothing while he was absent from his room, or asleep. The agony caused from the powder almost set the "Rube" will and he had to come home, being unable to play ball.

As a result he has been out of the game ever since and Mayville has lost every game played, but one. The fans are glorying that the team has lost and say it is good enough for them.

NINE TO FIVE

in Maysville's Favor Was Yesterday's Game at Richmond

Richmond lost to Mayville yesterday afternoon in the Normal City in a good game in which the locals were outbatted nine to five. The game was stopped in the third inning for a big rain and was finished in mud and water in which the Rivermen proved the better mudhorns. The all around work of the visitors and the batting of Bramlage were the features. Baird was presented with a fifty dollar check for hitting the "Bull" in a recent game here. The score follows:

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 R. H. E.
Richmond... 1 1 0 1 0 1 1 0—5 10 4
Mayville... 2 1 0 1 4 0 0 1—9 15 0
Struck Out—By Weisman, 9; by Meyers, 8.
Base on Balls—Of Meyers, 2. Sacrifice Hits—Carmony, Clover, Grover. Stolen Bases—Williams, Baird. Two-base Hits—Carmony, Bramlage, 2; Williams, Clover, Murry, Sanford. Three-base Hits—Bramlage. Double Plays—Carmony, Clover, Carmony, Haines, Fichter. Hit by Pitcher—E. J. Weisman (Black). Earned Runs—Richmond, 6; Mayville, 8. Time—1:50. Umpire—Belly.

FOR PRESIDENT,
 WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT.

It may be easier for Mr. Roosevelt to get the nomination than the votes.

Mr. Roosevelt should have put his integrity above all the governor's in the land.

Roosevelt might covet the Presidency thirteen times were it not for the superstition attached to the number.

Worse things might happen to Colonel Roosevelt than not to be an occupant of the White House a third time.

Women are to vote in the presidential contest of this year in the states of Washington, Idaho, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado and California. It is already known that the Republican national campaigners are to employ a staff of women political speakers for the six states in which women can vote for President, and that the Democratic national campaigners contemplated a similar step. The programme is to be carried out for the reason that the men political campaigners believe that the women orators will be more effective in appealing for women's votes than men would be.

"Swat-the-fly" campaigns for 1912 are well on. The elimination of this filthy and dangerous insect is a desirable end. The house-fly, in addition to being a demonstrated agent in the spreading of typhoid, is strongly suspected, on more or less conclusive evidence, with relation to a large number of infections, including cholera, dysentery, the infantile diarrheas, diphtheria and catagious ophthalmia. About a billion flies were killed in various campaigns of 1911—a statement which seems impressive until one considers the number of flies which escaped the slaughter. In Washington, D. C., alone, some 7,000,000 flies were killed by the "swat," the trap, drowning, sulphur fumes and even by electrocution. Dr. Howard, of the Bureau of Entomology, points out that in the congenial climate of that city seven generations of flies may be produced in a single summer. One female fly will lay on an average a batch of 120 eggs; and if all these eggs from a batch laid in the middle of April should hatch and reproduce their kind in like manner, there would be by autumn, from a single female fly, a progeny of nearly six thousand billion. And as each female may lay four batches of eggs, the figures for their unchecked development through a summer stagger the imagination. To "swat the fly" by the billion, therefore, means little, says The Journal of the American Medical Association, so long as those that survive have unchecked opportunity for breeding. There is even more weight, therefore, in Stockbridge's statement that during 1911 filthy breeding-places were cleaned up, which, if left alone, would have given opportunity for the propagation of incalculable billions. Better than "swatting" the fly is the prevention of its breeding by cleaning up the places where it thrives—the insanitary privy, the dead dog and horse allowed to lie unburied until putrid, the dung-heap, the uncovered garbage can and the spittoon. How this can be done, can be learned from the health departments of many states and municipalities, and from civic leagues and like organizations.

It may not be generally known, but it is an established fact that Andrew Jackson was the first presidential candidate to be nominated by a national political convention. "Old Hickory" was also the first Presidential candidate to stand up on a platform of principles set forth by a National political convention. One of the slogans was, "To the victors belong the spoils," and it rang down the ages until the farcical Civil Service law was enacted.

First he said: "Under no circumstances will I accept another nomination."

Then he said: "I will accept the nomination if tendered."

He Said (?) Then he said: "I will 'bust' the party wide open if it is not tendered."

He says: "The bosses are against me." This is doubtless as true elsewhere as it is in Kansas and Missouri. The bosses in Kansas are Stubbs and Leland. The bosses in Missouri are Hadley and Dickey.

He says: "The interests are against me." The sworn statement in Albany is that the Roosevelt Committee spent $71,000, trying to carry New York County alone. The sum of $71,000 for one county indicates a "barrel" practically bottomless. Harriman and others "put up" in 1904. Perkins and others are "putting up" now.

He says—but what's the use? Given good, nervy, unscrupulous, conscienceless political hypocrite with unlimited funds, and it doesn't make much difference what he says, he can get plenty of followers.—Kansas City Journal.

Foolish Philosophy.

How you wonder at the popularity of the man you hate! You wonder that even decent people even speak to him.

Superstition is like idealism; we all know better, but we all have a touch of it.

I am always trying to do something that I can't do, and worrying over failure.

No difference how clean a man keeps a house when his wife is away, when she returns, she says, "This house is a sight!"

If you succeed in attracting public attention at least half of those who see you, will laugh at you.

That which half of the people regard as the greatest truth, the other half regard as the greatest falsehood.

The average man is ashamed all his life, so many wise and noble sayings are thrown at him.

Your rival is rarely as fair and square as he expects you to be.

A small boy whose face is always clean may not realize what he is missing.

A woman always credits another woman with having good judgment when they both happen to dislike the same person.

The politest storekeeper is very apt to neglect the man who has bought for the man who has not.

A man who is a social success; is rarely a business success.—Ed Howe.

HEART HELPS AND BEAUTY HINTS.

Gertrude: If your hair is dry and falling out, wash it in beer. This treatment will make it stick around for a while.

Allie: A soak shower is a very pretty function for a young man who is about to move to another city. Have all your girl friends collect old socks from the neighbors. When washed, you can present them to him. He will do the darling after he gets them.

Dolly: You say that your fiancée has been soured ever since you accepted him. His case is a mystery. They usually wait until after the honeymoon.

Rose: It would be highly improper to take a revolver to a family growler party. A pair of brass knuckles or a blackjack will be sufficient jewelry for such an occasion.

Working Girl: Automobile trips with wealthy men are snafos. Better not go. If you are a good girl you will have to walk home. Back to the streetcar and on your wedding day your husband will let you ride around in a cab.

The U. S. WEATHER BUREAU

Says that the wet spell is over and we will now be permitted to enjoy spring. Kind of him, isn't it? Well, nearly everybody likes to "spruce up" in spring; repair the porches, put up screens, put a window in a dark room or maybe put in a new front door. It makes no difference whether it's a single board or an entire building we can furnish it.

Air: STAR SPANGLED BANNER
 Words by
 FREDERICK R. MERES

Oh say can you see by the dawn of the day,
 The day set apart for the grave decoration,
 The remnant of those who in battle array
 Had offered their lives for the life of our Nation;
 That the shackle and chain no longer remain,
 Nor the slave block its horror our Nation profane?

CHORUS:

Then gather the flowers that grow by the way,
 And strew on the graves of the Blue and the Gray.

Oh the havoc of shell and the gloom of the pen,
 The ravage of fever, the pang of starvation,
 Are past and forgiven by this band of brave men
 Who honor the graves with love and elation.
 For the sword now is sheathed, they are resting beneath
 The sod and the wave for the freedom of slave.

CHORUS:

Then lovingly cast on the crest of the wave
 The tribute of love for the true and the brave.

Then cast on the flowers, deck the monument fair,
 In church-yard and park with thy holy reflection;
 With malice to none and in charity share
 The principles held by the great of each section,
 And the flag of the free forever will be
 The emblem of peace and of true liberty.

CHORUS:

We will counsel our children to honor the day
 That ended the strife 'tween the Blue and the Gray.

NEW SCHOOL LAW

Attendance of Pupils Will Govern the Teachers' Pay

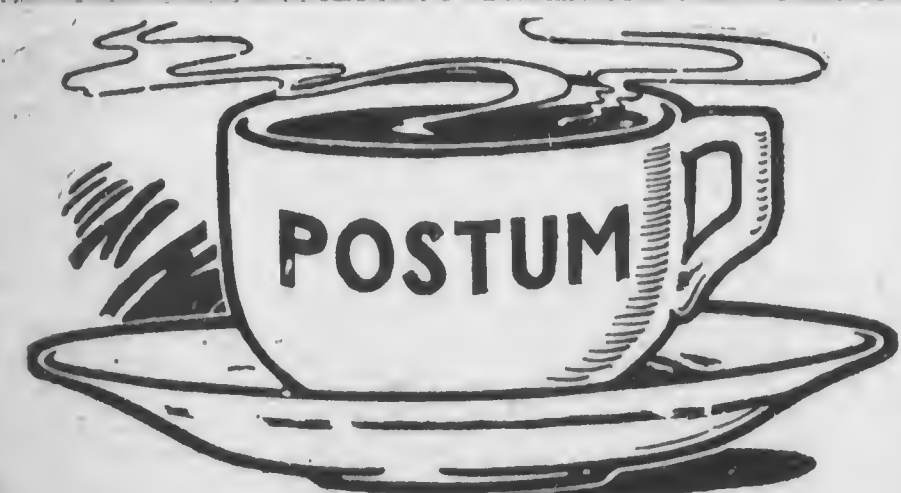

Under the new State law governing the apportionment of the State school funds, it is believed by the heads of the educational department that school attendance will be improved. The new law requires money to be paid teachers on a basis of school attendance, as well as qualifications to teach, thus encouraging the teacher to get the pupils to the school every day. Barksdale Hamlet, Superintendent of Public Instruction, and T. J. Coster, Superintendent of rural schools, are at work on a plan for paying the teachers under the new law. Under the old law a teacher was paid regardless of pupils in attendance, and it is said in some of the schools the attendance was allowed to fall off by reason of the fact that the teachers did not care. Under the new plan a teacher will be allowed a minimum salary, and this will be increased as the percentage of attendance in the school increases. Last year and for several years past only one-third of the pupils enrolled attended school during the year. It is hoped to raise this next year to at least 50 per cent.

There's a Reason

NOT with the anguish of hearts that are breaking. Come we as mourners to weep for our dead; Grief in our breasts has grown weary of aching. Green is the turf where our tears have shed. While o'er their marble the mosses are creeping, Stealing each name and the legend away. Give their proud story to memory's keeping. Tell their bright deeds to the ages unborn! Shrouded in the temple we hallow today.

LIVER WENDELL HOLMES, the poet of occasions, wrote this lyric for the ceremonies attending the laying of the corner stone of Harvard's great Memorial hall, built in honor of her sons slain in the Civil war. Grandsons of the undergraduates who heard it when it was first read have since been born, and have passed under the stately roof of the Memorial hall on their way to the lofty dining hall of the old college. To them and to their children the grief which had ceased to be heart-breaking when Holmes penned his idealized and ennobling sentiment. Yet thirty-four states will by that of their respective legislatures observe Memorial day as a day consecrated to memorial services for those who served in the wars of this country. And to most of us this means the soldiers of the Civil war, though in truth a recent visit to Arlington cemetery brought home the truth that the war with Spain demanded its toll of the nation's manhood. But the custom of placing flowers on the graves of soldiers on a certain fixed day devoted to services commemorative of their patriotism came into practice at the close of the Civil war, and Memorial day is still most intimately associated with the men of that war, most of whom have passed into the land of memory, though a comparatively small number of its veterans still survive to march in the procession which is a part of the day's observance.

The first Memorial or Decoration day which these veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic recall each year was not, as it is now in most of the states and even in Alaska and Porto Rico, a legal holiday. It came as the result of an order issued by Gen. John A. Logan, national commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, then a young organization. It was in May, 1868, that Adjutant General N. J. Chysman conferred with General Logan concerning the matter of having the Grand Army inaugurate the custom of placing flowers on the graves of Union soldiers at some uniform time. Following this conference General Logan issued an order setting aside May 30, 1868, "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country during the late rebellion and whose bodies now lie in almost every city, village or hamlet churchyard in the land."

Chicago had the first celebration of a Decoration day under the auspices of the Grand Army organization in 1868. Two years before this, in a letter which was printed March 12, 1866, in the columns of the Columbus Times, a southern woman, Mrs. Mary Ann Williams Howard, widow of a confederate officer, Maj. John H. Howard of Milledgeville, Ga., had suggested that April 26 of that year be set aside as the date "to wreath the graves of our martyred dead with flowers." The suggestion was followed and that date, April 26, is now observed as Confederate Memorial day, and set aside as a legal holiday, as is May 30 in other states. In four southern states, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia and Florida, Mrs. Williams was greatly beloved in the south. During the war she was as active in doing all she could to serve the southern side as her husband and was the moving spirit in putting into operation what were known as "wayside houses," in which care was given soldiers en route to battlefields. When she died at Columbus, Ga., in 1874, she was buried with military honors.

Two southern states, North Carolina and South Carolina, observe May 10 as their memorial day. In New Mexico it is left to the governor to appoint the day. As every state is independent in its legislation, traditions and customs, every state has power to appoint its own holidays, but, despite these variations, a spirit of centralization or the growth of a national spirit. If you wish to call it that, has aided in bringing about an approximate uniformity of date for Memorial day in most of the states. Thirty-four states and Alaska, Porto Rico and the District of Columbia observe the 30th of May as a legal holiday dedicated to the memory of soldiers. Four southern states, as has been said, observe the day on April 26, two on May 10. It is a good custom this, which teaches each succeeding generation to honor the courage, patriotism and loyal sacrifice of those who have preceded it. A nation which does this in special ceremonies one day each year may fearlessly face the future, confident that it will be worthy of the past.

MASTER Commissioner's Sale

Nelson Rogers' Adm. et al., Plaintiffs, vs.
Irene Rogers et al., Defendants.

Judgment and Order of Sale.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale in the above styled action, I will, as Master Commissioner do at 3 o'clock p.m., proceed on the premises on the South side of East Third street, between Commerce and Poplar streets in the Fifth Ward of the City of Maysville, Kentucky, to sell the following described real estate at public outcry, and to the highest and best bidder, in order to satisfy the estate of Nelson Rogers, deceased, and to make a division of the proceeds of said sale among the parties entitled thereto.

MONDAY, JUNE 3d, 1912,

Said real estate is the certain lot of ground situated in the Fifth Ward of the City of Maysville, Kentucky, together with two frame dwelling houses thereon, known on the plat of Limestone, or East Maysville, as Lot No. 126, fronting 40 feet on the South side of East Third street, and running back same width, 160 feet to an alley and being the same property conveyed to Elizabeth Adams for life, with remainder in trust in her children, by Henry Derach et al., by deed dated December 1st, 1908, and recorded in deed book 81, page 34, Mason County Court Clerk's office.
TERMS OF SALE.—Said sale will be made upon a credit of one-half (1/2) of the purchase price in 60 months and the remaining one-half (1/2) in twelve (12) months. The purchaser will be required to execute bond for the purchase price, with approved personal security, payable to the Master Commissioner, and bearing six (6) per cent interest, thereon from day of sale. Master Commissioner.

Returns To His Former Work

Mr. Charles E. Curran, who recently resigned the Secretaryship of the Audubon Mineral Water Co., of Dover, has returned to his former chosen vocation, the management of a traveling representative of a large South lead, ind., range concern and will have charge of the same Southern territory he was so successful in. He will probably have his headquarters in Memphis, Tenn.

Says the Doctor News:

We are sorry to hear that Mr. Curran has decided to sever his official connection with the company, for he was the one who always made a fight for his native town, not only in the location of the office of the Audubon Company but for every thing else for the good of Dover, and the Dover people have nothing but the kindest feelings toward him at all times.

The real reason of Mr. Curran's resignation, however, was that he has been offered inducements to return to the service of the company he represented for so many years, that he could not afford to turn the offer down. He will again go on the road as Southern representative, and will assume his duties about the middle of this month.

Mr. Curran has a traveling record as a salesman unequalled by any Mason counties, as he has canvassed every State in the Union; also Canada from Vancouver to New Scotia, and knows the North American continent from beginning to end. He has mastered the range business and built up a trade that surprised even his employers. He started in again last Monday and will soon be making business home in the Sunny South; all of which will be good news to his Kentucky friends, especially at Dover where C. E. Curran had his natal habitat.

FADDY "FAN"

Replies to Criticism on Baseball Attendance That Appeared in Kicker's Corner of Tuesday's Ledger

The Evening Bulletin

In THE MAYSVILLE PUBLIC LEDGER of Tuesday, May 28th, there appeared an article signed "A Fan," in which it was stated "It is indeed a surprise to me that a city like Maysville cannot or will not support a baseball team, and a wonder one at that, when towns such as Winchester, Richmond and Paris, the same size, or smaller, have boasted teams for several years. Maysville has the reputation of being 'faddy,' etc."

If Maysville has the reputation of being 'faddy' it has kept up its reputation well, for it has never been known in the history of baseball before, outside of Maysville, where it was the fate to mistreat a fellow player like our third-baseman Connors has been mistreated by some of his fellow players. Richmond, Paris, Winchester, Frankfort nor Lexington would not stand for anything like this for a second, and if they had a third-baseman like Connors they would boost him instead of knock him on every occasion.

More than a hundred persons—every-day patrons—of baseball in Maysville have told the writer that they want to see the game especially to see Connors play, but since he has been so badly mistreated, here and abroad, by his playmates, that they had no desire to go back to the game.

Maysville now has a third-baseman that is stationary. Since Connors has been out of the game they have played four games, winning but one out of the four, and it looks to this fan like we have hit the toboggan.

It is to be hoped that Connors will come back and get in the game, and that the management will see that he is treated like any gentleman should be treated.

A FAN.

HOT FLASHES.

Women in middle age often complain of hot flashes. They are at that stage of life—when their delicate organism needs a tonic and helping-hand which only Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can give them. Many women suffer needlessly from girlhood to womanhood and from motherhood to old age—with backache, dizziness or headache. A woman often becomes sleepless, nervous, "broken-down," irritable and feels tired from morning to night. When pains and aches rack the womanly system at frequent intervals, ask your neighbor about

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Mrs. J. IMHOFF, of 321 S. Denton Street, Baltimore, Md., says: "I wrote you about nine months ago, telling you of my condition. I have a fine baby girl—she weighed nine pounds when born. She is my third child and the strongest of them all. My suffering was only for two hours. I took several bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of Dr. Pierce's Smart-Weed. I never had a well day before I took your medicine. I was surprised how well I felt—could eat—was always hungry, and never had a sick stomach. The nurse who was with me said the medicine was wonderful because I got along so nicely after having had so much trouble before. She intends to recommend it to all her suffering patients. Everybody is astonished at me because I only weighed 112 pounds before and now I weigh 125. I have had several ladies come to me and ask about Dr. Pierce's medicine. I am willing to recommend it to all who suffer and want help. If any want information I will be glad to give it to them."

The first car truck of oil for Maysville's streets will arrive this week.

Near Flamingoburg, Mr. Frank Peed, aged 62, died at his home yesterday afternoon.
